I want to wind up with a tire on my coliar, To face a repair bill that takes my last dollar; I want to go smash in the smashest of smashes-To end in the worst of all death-daring dashes; To fly in the air and come down in the stubble, Commingled with all of my automobubble. Mixed up and mixed in and securely entangled With all the machinery hopelessly mangled, The Gabriel horn in a twist beyond tooting. The wheels past all chances of skidding or scoot-

ing. Oh, let me go out in my automobobble, My automobabblety-wibblety-wobble, With honkety-honkety-honkety-bang And sizzlety-fizzlety-whizzlety-whang! My automobipper-

R. V. Dryden in razing the brick building opposite Armstrong's Drugstore in East Second street found a silver quarter in one of the walls bearing date of 1853, being the year in which Mr. Dryden was born. Another coincidence was that his father-in-law had laid the brick in the razed building over a quarter of a century ago and the son-in-law has a contract for the erection of a new one on the same site.

Mrs. W. N. Stockton has returned from a three months delightful trip in the West. While absent Mrs. S. visited San Francisco, Yellowstone Park, British Columbia, Denver and other points of interest. She was met at the latter place by her popular and truthful husband who, after a three weeks visit in Denver, accompanied her home. The Colonel is as full of new jokes as a cocoanut is of sour milk, and if you, want to while away a pleasant bour, just get his bazzo going.

WHAT IT WAS

They Were Only Tobacco Birds Flying Through the Air

It is just possible that some one will rise up and proclaim that "bird story" in yesterday's the Lutheran Church. All are invited. LEDGER a pipe dream. It was not, honest Injun.

It may be said, however, that it was an optical illusion, wherein quite a number who were witnesses of the affair were deluded with the belief that what they saw actually were large birds sailing through the air.

They were not, just the same, and the mistake is attributable to deceptive eyesight and which necessitated the tearing up of the new the far-off distance.

business is evidently a Colonel Sellers sort of liable to happen. a farmer, and some day may be worth millions of money-provided his inventive genius keeps in good working order.

It was thus-

In order to facilitate the removal of a crop of tobacco grown on the crown of a high hill to a barn situated in the valley below, the distance from point to point being at least a quarter of a mile, a strong wire was stretched and thereon was placed hands of the weed and shot down the incline with the greatest of ease.

In its flight it had the appearance of a sailing fowl, so graceful and accurate was its movement.

There are schemes and tricks in all trades, and this one happens to be a rural roosters' device. It's a good one, too.

Now, its peanuts to doughnuts that some fellow will intimate had he been the observer he would have readily discerned and understood the situation at a glance and not have been led astray by such an ignisfatuus. Well, possibly.

As to the article, it was given as a truth, and that it proved a boomerang is no fault of the Scribe, who does not lay claim to infallibility. $4.90. He has now employed a Doctor of Law to What will you take?
